INTRODUCTION

In 21st century, growth has become elusive for a large number of companies. Why? Because the term leadership has metamorphosed into something which is vastly different than the 20th century counterpart. The paradigms, trends, styles, beliefs and leadership theories of the previous century which governed the earlier generation and led to the culmination of 20th century industrialized society, are no longer going to be valid. They will no longer deliver results and are woefully inadequate to propel growth in this era. To ride the change, we have first to comprehend the change. New skills, new tools, and a new mindset are required for sustained growth and success. This Program hopes to help participants in not only learning the changed paradigms of leadership but also acquiring skills to achieve consistent high performance leading to long term growth.
